DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Smith et al (USPN 4,229,169). In Fig. 1 Smith et al show an artificial root of a tooth, comprising an artificial root body of a tooth, provided with a male thread part to be engaged with a jaw bone, and with a supporting stage on which an artificial tooth is mounted; and a self tapping part provided on said artificial root body of the tooth. As to Claims 2, the self tapping part comprises a first self tapping part provided at the end point of the screw of said artificial root body of the tooth and a second self tapping part in a saw-blade shape, provided on a screw thread of said male thread part.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

1) Claims 3-4,6-7, and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Smith et al in view of Borle (USPN 4,334,865). Smith et al disclose the claimed invention except for the second self-tapping part being in a saw-blade shape. Borle teaches a screw 1 inserted in a part of a natural tooth wherein "the thread is preferably of saw-tooth shape" (col. 1, lines 52-53). As to Claims 6-7 and 9, as best shown in Fig. 6C of Smith et al the screw thread comprises a section on the side of the base end in which the second self tapping part in a saw-blade shape is not provided.

2) Claims 5 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Smith et al in view of Bjorn et al (USPN 6,896,517). Smith et al discloses the claimed invention except for the first self-tapping part of the artificial root of the tooth comprising a triple blade. Bjorn et al teach a self-tapping implant wherein the first self-tapping portion, as shown in Fig. 2, comprises a triple blade 1,2,3. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to incorporate the triple blade at the first self tapping portion into the invention disclosed by Smith et al in order to provide easier insertion into the jawbone and to provide spaces for the bone material that has been cut off so that the material will not block the further insertion of the screw.
